

One Executive's Perspective on Broadband in 2015

Josh Pettiette, VP of Product Management and Business Development for GVTC, will inform the membership of his views on industry trends and how best to address them for the coming year. This may include:

- Recent marketplace activity that will impact broadband services in the coming year
- Challenges in addressing these changes
- Potential approaches in addressing these challenges
- A "crystal ball" view of broadband's future

Biography

Josh Pettiette is Vice President - Product, Business Development, and Strategic Planning for GVTC and oversees the planning and creation of products and services that meet both consumers' evolving digital lifestyles and businesses' demands for technology solutions.

Mr. Pettiette manages profitability for GVTC's broadband, cable, phone, and security products while ensuring that they provide the greatest value in the marketplace. He also evaluates emerging technologies to determine which best leverage the power of GVTC's fiber-to-the-home network. In addition to product management, Mr. Pettiette is also focused on pursuing and evaluating growth opportunities for GVTC based on strategic priorities from market expansion to mergers or acquisitions

